

Accuracy Matters

Hermes® Bluetooth Smart Thermometer is thin and flexible, making it not only more comfortable, but also the most unbreakable thermometer on the market for all ages.

Adults appreciate it's easy to read display, bright colors, and simple, visual symptom options so much that they also order the Hermes® Bluetooth Heart Monitor system as well.

At Hermes, we take accuracy seriously. After all, what good is taking a measurement if that measurement is unreliable? The Kinsa Smart Thermometer has been cleared by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the European CE Mark, and meets ASTM standards for professional accuracy.

For details about accuracy standards, please see your Hermes Instructions for Use guide.
